CLEVELAND, OH MSA

Situated in northeastern Ohio on the banks of Lake Erie, and approximately 40 miles north of Akron and 130 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, the city of Cleveland is the principle city of the Cleveland-Elyria, OH MSA (Population: 2.0 Million) and the county seat of Cuyahoga County.

Diversified manufacturing is a primary economic sector, resting on a traditional base of heavy industry - transportation, health, insurance, retailing, utilities, commercial banking, and finance - is emerging as a dominant sector. Cleveland serves as headquarters to nine Fortune 500 Companies, including industrial and non-industrial: Sherwin Williams, Parker-Hannifin, KeyCorp, TransDigm Group, Medical Mutual of Ohio, Applied Industrial Technologies, Aleris, Hyster-Yale Materials Handling, and Lincoln Electric Holdings. Cleveland is also home to nearly 150 international companies from twenty-five different countries.

Manufacturing has traditionally been the primary industry of Northeast Ohio, and it remains so today. Dubbed "Polymer Valley," the metropolitan Cleveland area has the largest concentration of polymer companies in the United States. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. for example, is the world's largest tire company and is headquartered in neighboring Akron, OH. The area's other manufacturing companies are engaged in such areas as the automotive industry, fabricated metals, electrical/electronic equipment, and instruments and controls.

The manufacturing industry is supplemented by the science and engineering field. More than 168 engineering companies are located in the Cleveland metro area. These firms engage in civil engineering, construction, and the burgeoning field of information technology, which employs approximately 73,500 area workers. Among the local institutions of science and engineering are the Cleveland Engineering Society, the Cleveland Society of Professional Engineers, the Great Lakes Science Center, the NASA John H. Glenn Research Center, ASM (American Society for Metals) International, and the engineering schools of Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland State University, Kent State University, Lakeland Community College, and the University of Akron.

Cleveland's historical growth was largely due to the city's strategic location on Lake Erie, allowing local manufacturers to receive raw materials and export finished goods via the Port of Cleveland. The port, located at the mouth of the Cuyahoga River is still a major bulk freight terminal. Several major highways serve the city, including Interstate 71, Interstate 77, Interstate 90, Interstate 480, and Interstate 490 among others. The city is also linked by Amtrak, several inter-modal freight rail terminals, and the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, which is the busiest airport in Ohio and a hub for United Airlines.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

In 2008, Jeffrey and his brother, Andrew, acquired EMMCO Corp., a 60-year old family-owned real estate business with a reputation for integrity and persistence. In the face of recession, they repositioned the company to offer full-service professional sales and leasing brokerage to third-party landlords and tenants, building a professional team dedicated to going the extra mile for clients. In 2015, EMMCO affiliated with Coldwell Banker Commercial.

A 25-year industry veteran, Jeffrey is a Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM) and licensed broker focused on helping property owners and investors navigate the local real estate markets to their advantage. With an M.S. in Real Estate Development from New York University, Jeffrey helps clients evaluate investment and leasing options under any market conditions. He also has the vision and expertise to match local businesses with unique real estate opportunities and strong ROI potential.

Jeffrey's early career at EMMCO centered on marketing retail shopping centers for lease and for sale and representing developers on acquisitions. He also successfully closed numerous refinancing assignments. Prior to that he was an analyst at Cushman & Wakefield in New York City.

Jeffrey is a former board member and president of the Ohio chapter of CCIM Institute. He is also an active member of International Council of Shopping Centers. Jeffrey was a member of the Ohio Licensing Structure Review Taskforce, charged with reviewing real estate licensing requirements in Ohio and recommending changes to the Ohio legislature many of which were enacted in 2017.
